Integrity’s growing portfolio of work in South Asia is supported by our continuous presence in Islamabad, Pakistan.

We have been working in South Asia since 2016, with a wide range of local partners. We are committed to building further on our regional expertise and capabilities, by deepening our engagement in both Pakistan and Afghanistan, across sectors.

Our office in the heart of Islamabad is well located for meeting with clients and partners, as well as for remotely managing projects across the region. Our Pakistan-based colleagues bring a deep understanding of the local and regional context, while a roster of 300+ consultants have experience working on a range of thematic areas. Our founders’ early experience in the South Asia region was one of the sparks for Integrity’s continuing ambition to raise the bar for the standard of evidence that forms the basis of interventions and programming in such contexts.

We combine data science, evaluative thinking and research skills with tried-and-tested tools and methods. Our data and knowledge management team have built powerful internal business intelligence systems for risk, project and knowledge management, automation, and analytics, tailored to working in the region.

Our live and recent projects in South Asia

Evidence for Health – Monitoring, Evaluation, Research and Learning (MERL) FCDO Pakistan | 2024-2027

✓ We deliver MERL services for two complementary programmes aimed at strengthening national health security, building a more resilient health system, and improving the equity, equality, efficiency, and coverage of the delivery of health services in Pakistan.

The primary beneficiaries of the FCDO bilateral Evidence for Health (E4H) programme and the World Bank-funded National Health Support Programme (NHSP) are adults, women, and children, particularly poor and marginalised groups, who need preventative and curative health care services. Through the programme we focus on gender, poverty, equity, health inequalities, disability and areas that are vulnerable to climate change.

TPM of the Afghanistan Reconstruction Trust Fund (ARTF), Phase III | World Bank | 2020 – 2024

✓ Integrity, with partners, provides Third-Party Monitoring (TPM) services to the 18-year, $12.3-billion multi-donor ARTF.

We lead the Digital Platform Unit for data, analysis and reporting for the Fund, supporting over 450 regular users. Following the change of regime, Integrity shifted its work to support the World Bank task teams in the development, implementation and monitoring of new projects; helped safeguard ARTF investments, ensuring continued development impact through integrated oversight; and supported project closure of the financial and physical monitoring of former ARTF projects.

Third-Party Validation, Monitoring and Research Peer Review of Delivering Accelerated Family Planning in Pakistan (DAFPAK) | FCDO Pakistan | 2021 – 2023

✓ We were the Third-Party Validation and Monitoring lead for DAFPAK, FCDO's £90 million, multi-year investment into family planning across Pakistan.

We validated and monitored the delivery of all implementation partners through quarterly progress reviews, six-monthly field validations and annual surveys.

The COVID-19 pandemic saw Integrity introduce new ways to assess the impact of the global pandemic on family planning services. Then, in 2022, floods in Pakistan displaced 33 million people. DAFPAK pivoted its funding to provide emergency services for family planning and health, including maternal and child health.

TPM and Evaluation Services for Multi-Year Humanitarian Programme (MYHP) | FCDO Pakistan | 2021 – 2022

✓ Integrity provided TPM and evaluation services to a six-year £100 million programme that aimed to reach at least 2 million people with life-saving assistance and early recovery activities following natural disasters and conflict.

Our independent MEL services supported cross-programme accountability and learning, including performance evaluations of selected interventions.

TPM of Building Disaster Resilience in Pakistan (BDRP) Programme – Phase II | FCDO Pakistan | 2019 – 2020

✓ We provided TPM services to the FCDO for the £30 million BDRP Programme, which aims to increase Pakistan's capability to reduce disaster risk through better planning, preparedness and response at government and community levels.

Our work helped to increase accountability, oversight and evidence-based learning, providing learning opportunities to inform the next phase of resilience programming.
